Procedures for Handling Device Keys, MKB's and Secret Constants

This document is provided as referenced in Exhibit B, Section 6 of the 4C CPRM/CPM License Agreement. Standards and procedures outlined in this document are to be used as guidelines in conjunction with the 4C CPRM/CPM Compliance Rules, Robustness Rules and 4C CPRM/CPM License Agreement. This document is not intended to replace the standards, procedures and rules as set forth in the 4C CPRM/CPM Compliance Rules, Robustness Rules and 4C CPRM/CPM License Agreement.

1. Definitions

- A. "Confidential Information" means (x) any and all information relating to the 4C Technology or Licensor's or any Founder's business practices relating to the 4C Technology, made available to Adopter directly by 4C or its designees or representatives, or by any Fellow Adopter (or Content Participant) prior hereto or during the term of this Agreement, including, without limitation, specifications, software, hardware, firmware, documentation, designs, flow charts, technical data, outlines, blueprints, notes, drawings, prototypes, templates, systems, manuals, know-how, processes and methods of operation, trade secrets, business plans, strategies, concepts, research, data bases, client or customer lists, financial data, other data or information that relates to Licensor's or a Founder's past, present or future research, development or business activities, and any other sensitive material belonging to Licensor or any Founder, which (y) is marked "confidential" when disclosed in written form or indicated as "confidential" when disclosed orally, and confirmed in writing within thirty days to be confidential, including, without limitation, Secret Constants, and Media Key Blocks provided, however, that Secret Constants and Media Key Blocks shall be treated as confidential regardless of whether or not they are marked "Confidential."
- B. "Highly Confidential Information" means (x) any and all information relating to the 4C Technology or Licensor's or any Founder's business practices relating to the 4C Technology, made available to Adopter directly by 4C or its designees or representatives, or by any Fellow Adopter (or Content Participant) prior hereto or during the term of this Agreement, including, without limitation, specifications, software, hardware, firmware, documentation, designs, flow charts, technical data, outlines, blueprints, notes, drawings, prototypes, templates, systems, manuals, know-how, processes and methods of operation, trade secrets, business plans, strategies, concepts, research, data bases, client or customer lists, financial data, other data or information that relates to Licensor's or a Founder's past, present or future research, development or business activities, and any other sensitive material belonging to Licensor or any Founder, which (y) is marked "Highly Confidential Information" when disclosed in written form or indicated as "Highly Confidential" when disclosed orally and confirmed in writing within thirty days to be Highly Confidential, including without limitation, Device Keys, provided, however, that Device Keys shall be treated as “Highly Confidential” regardless of whether or not they are marked “Highly Confidential.”

2. Ownership

All Confidential and/or Highly Confidential Information, copyrighted or patented information, and media containing any of the above as provided by Licensor to Adopter shall remain the property of Licensor, the Founders, or their suppliers. Except as expressly provided herein, this Agreement does not give Adopter any license or other rights to any information provided under this Agreement.

3. Procedures for Safeguarding Highly Confidential Information

Adopters shall employ procedures for safeguarding Highly Confidential Information at least as rigorous as Adopter would employ for its own most highly confidential information, such procedures to include, at a minimum: (1) maintaining on Adopter’s premises a secure location in which any and all Highly Confidential Information shall be stored, where such a location may include electronic storage that is at least as secure with respect to the Highly Confidential Information as the 4C Technology is with respect to the protection of digital content; (2) that any Highly Confidential Information stored in such a location shall be accessible only by Authorized Employees; (3) that (x) where Highly Confidential Information is stored in a location that is physically secure, Authorized Employees visiting such location shall sign in and out each time that they visit such location; and (y) where Highly Confidential Information is stored securely in an electronic form, Authorized Employees having access to such Highly Confidential Information shall sign in and out each time that they have such access; and (4) when Highly Confidential Information is not in use, such information shall be stored in a locked safe at such secure location or shall be stored electronically in a form that is at least as secure with respect to the Highly Confidential Information as the 4C Technology is with respect to protection of digital content.

4. Methods of Maintaining Confidentiality of Highly Confidential Information

Per Sections 5.3 - 5.3.1 of the 4C CPRM/CPPI License Agreement, Licensees licensed under Section 2.3 shall maintain the confidentiality of Highly Confidential Information in the following manner:

Such Adopter shall employ procedures for safeguarding Highly Confidential Information at least as rigorous as the Adopter would employ for its own most highly confidential information, such procedures to include, at a minimum: (1) maintaining on the Adopter’s premises a secure location in which any and all Highly Confidential Information shall be stored, where such a location may include electronic storage that is at least as secure with respect to the Highly Confidential Information as the 4C Technology is with respect to the protection of digital content; (2) that any Highly Confidential Information stored in such a location shall be accessible only by Authorized Employees (as defined below); (3) that (x) where Highly Confidential Information is stored in a location that is physically secure, Authorized Employees visiting such location shall sign in and out each time that they visit such location; and (y) where Highly Confidential Information is stored securely in an electronic form, Authorized Employees having access to such Highly Confidential

Information shall sign in and out each time that they have such access; and (4) when Highly Confidential Information is not in use, such information shall be stored in a locked safe at such secure location or shall be stored electronically in a form that is at least as secure with respect to the Highly Confidential Information as the 4C Technology is with respect to protection of digital content.

5. Dissemination of Highly Confidential Information

Per Section 5.3.2 of the 4C CPRM/CPDM License Agreement, Licensees licensed under Section 2.3 shall:

Disseminate Highly Confidential Information only to the strictest minimum possible number of regular full-time or part-time employees (with the exception of short-term employees including by way of example and not of limitation employees such as interns, seasonal and temporary employees) of Adopter: (1) who have an absolute need to know such Highly Confidential Information in order to enable Adopter to implement the 4C Technology in compliance with the Specification; (2) who are bound in writing by obligations of confidentiality sufficient to protect the Highly Confidential Information in accordance with the terms of this Agreement; and (3) who, prior to the disclosure of such Highly Confidential Information, have: (x) been identified in writing by Adopter to 4C; and (y) read and execute the acknowledgment attached as Exhibit D hereto (the original of such executed acknowledgment to be sent to 4C) ("Authorized Employee"). Adopter shall cause Authorized Employees to abide by their obligations hereunder and shall use the same efforts to enforce the confidentiality obligations of each Authorized Employee during and after the termination of his/her employment as Adopter uses to enforce with respect to Adopter's own similarly confidential information, provided that Adopter shall not use less than reasonable efforts in such enforcement. Adopter shall make reasonable efforts to assist 4C in relation to any claim, action, suit, proceeding, or litigation with respect to the access of Adopter's former employee to information provided under this Section 5. Notwithstanding any contrary provision, Adopter shall not disseminate any Highly Confidential Information to more than three (3) Authorized Employees per product category (e.g. SD card, DVD-RAM, etc.) ("Key Employees") unless Adopter has notified 4C in advance of its intention to increase the number of Key Employees to an additional increment of up to three (3) such employees. Adopter may make such notifications of additional increments of Key Employees without limit, but in doing so shall abide by the terms of clauses (1), (2), and (3), above. Adopter may substitute another employee for a Key Employee only in the event of death, permanent or long-term disability or resignation or termination of employment of an existing Key Employee or reassignment of an existing Key Employee to a substantially different business unit that is not involved in the development, manufacture, or sale of products (in the product category Key Employee was theretofore involved in) incorporating the 4C Technology. Adopter shall inform 4C in writing prior to the substitution or addition of any Key Employee. Adopter may also disclose Highly Confidential Information to an employee of another Adopter that has entered into an Adopter Agreement, where such other company is authorized to possess such Highly Confidential Information and where the employee to whom disclosure is made is a Key Employee for such other company. Prior to any disclosure pursuant to the preceding sentence, Adopter must assure itself that such other company is, in fact, authorized to possess the Highly Confidential Information to be disclosed, that the employee to whom such disclosure is to be made is entitled to possess the Highly Confidential Information to be disclosed, and that the method to be used to disclose Highly Confidential Information is as secure as the methods used by 4C to disclose the same information to the Adopter. Adopter may rely on a written representation from such other company, attesting that such company is authorized to possess the Highly Confidential Information and that the employee to whom the disclosure is to be made is entitled to possess the Highly Confidential Information disclosed, provided Adopter does not know or have reason to know that the other company is not authorized to possess the Highly Confidential Information. Adopter may disclose Highly Confidential Information to third parties with whom Adopter has contracted to manufacture for the sole account of the Adopter, provided that the Adopter shall remain responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of the Highly Confidential Information provided to such third parties and provided that Adopter has executed a nondisclosure agreement with such third parties sufficient to protect the Highly Confidential Information in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

6. Copies of Highly Confidential and Confidential Information

Per Section 5.4 of the 4C CPRM/CPPM License Agreement, Licensees shall:

Adopter shall not make any copies of any document containing Highly Confidential Information and/or Confidential Information except when required for use by different business units manufacturing Compliant Products in the same product category but located in different facilities. In the event such information is required for use by such diversely located business units, Adopter may make one (1) copy of such documents for each affected business unit and each of the requirements and obligations of this Article will apply individually to each such business unit. Adopter shall notify Licensor in writing if such additional copies are made. Adopter may request that 4C provide Adopter with additional copies of Confidential and/or Highly Confidential documents for a fee of $500 per additional copy, such fee to be submitted to 4C with each request. 4C may, in its sole discretion, fulfill any such request, provided that 4C shall not unreasonably refuse to provide requested additional copies.

7. Contact Person and Provision of 4C Information

Per Section 5.5 of the 4C CPRM/CPPM License Agreement, Licensees shall:

Designate a single Authorized Employee who shall receive all Confidential Information and/or Highly Confidential Information (the "Adopter Contact") disclosed by Licensor and may designate a single alternative Authorized Employee ("Alternate Adopter Contact") who shall be entitled to receive such Confidential Information and/or Highly Confidential Information in the event that Adopter Contact is absent at the time such information is to be provided. Prior to the provision of any Confidential Information and/or Highly Confidential Information to the Adopter Contact or Alternate Adopter Contact, such Adopter Contact or Alternate Adopter Contact shall have complied with all of his/her obligations under Sections 5.2 and 5.3. Additional Adopter contacts may be authorized by Licensor, subject to additional fees and security requirements.

8. Notification of Unauthorized Use or Disclosure

Per Section 5.6 of the 4C CPRM/CPPM License Agreement, Licensees shall:

Adopter shall notify Licensor in writing promptly upon discovery of any unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information and/or Highly Confidential Information, and will cooperate with Licensor and the Founders in every reasonable way to regain possession of such information and to prevent its further unauthorized use or disclosure.

9. Expiration of Device Keys

Licensee understands and agrees that if 4C determines that circumstances warranting expiration of such Device Keys or Device Key Sets exist, all devices incorporating said Device Key Set shall be Expired. The Specification includes means by which Device Keys and/or Device Key Sets may be invalidated, rendering them unable to record or playback Digital Audio or Digital Video Content protected by the 4C Technology (generally, “Expire”, “Expiration” or “Expired”).

Per Sections 9.1 - 9.1.3 of the 4C CPRM/CPPM License Agreement, there are three basic types of Device Key Set assignments to Production/Sale Licensed Products.

Type A: Device Key Sets are unique per device or instance of software.

Type B: Device Key Sets may be shared among a limited number of devices or instances of software. Implementations are required to be renewable, preferably via user-transparent means such as the download of updated software from a website. In the event a Device Key Set is Expired, Adopter shall provide clear information to the end user indicating that renewal is necessary and describing the necessary steps to perform the update. This update shall be made available at no cost to the end user. Adopter shall make an update (using a new Device Key Set) ready and available within 2 weeks of notification from the 4C.

Unconnected Devices: When a device or software with Type B Device Key Sets can be used without the end-user ever making a connection (i.e. an internet connection) that could be used to download updates, the Device is considered to be Unconnected. If an Unconnected Device's Key Set is Expired, Adopter shall make an update available via download and prompt delivery via physical mail. For Unconnected Devices, a single Device Key Set may be shared by no more than 5,000 instances.

Connected Devices: When a device or software with Type B Device Key Sets requires the end-user to make a connection at least once in order to obtain or use the software, the Device is considered to be Connected. If a Connected Device's Key Set is Expired, Adopter shall make an update available via download and at Adopter's option prompt delivery via physical mail. For Connected Devices, a single Device Key Set may be shared by no more than 10,000 instances.

Type C: Device Key Sets may be shared among any number of devices or instances of software without limit. This requires managed renewable implementations. For purposes of this section “Managed” means that Periodic Updates are implemented (even if no Device Key Set expiration occurs) based on an on-going connection between the end-user and the distributor of the Managed Device Key Sets. For purposes of this section “Periodic Update” is the equivalent of a software release. The old release is disabled and replaced by a new release that uses a new Device Key Set. These Periodic Updates shall occur at least twice a year, beginning from first product availability. The Managed environment shall also be able to perform Device Key Set expiration, at the direction of the 4C, independently of the 4C’s Device Key Set expiration mechanisms. All Managed updates shall occur via user-transparent means such as download of updated software from a website. In the event a Device Key Set is Expired, Adopter shall make an update (using a new Device Key Set) ready and available within 2 weeks of notification from 4C.

10. MKB Orders

A. MKB

1. DVD Audio and Recordable DVD

CPPM for DVD Audio orders shall be limited to a maximum of 185 MKBs. Fees for recordable DVD media are on a per media basis, available in 1,000,000 unit increments. For each 1,000,000 units of media manufactured (or fraction thereof), at least one MKB must be ordered. A Maximum of 1,500 MKBs can be ordered at one time. When ordering MKBs, a manufacturer shall only order sufficient MKBs to cover anticipated recordable DVD media production for the 3-month period subsequent to the fulfillment of the order. In the event that production in the given 3 month period is lower than anticipated, no more than one (1) order (i.e. 1,500 MKBs) may be carried over for use in the next 3-month cycle.

MKBs for CPPM and CPRM must be ordered separately. In addition, each CPRM Recordable media type (RAM, RW and R) can use the same MKB order.

2. SD Card and Compact Flash

For each 100,000 units manufactured (or fraction thereof), at least one MKB must be ordered. A Maximum of 600 MKB sets (16 MKBs, one for each Block type – see the 4C Signing Facility Users Manual) can be ordered at one time. When ordering MKBs, a manufacturer shall only order sufficient MKBs to cover anticipated SD Card or Compact Flash Media production for the 3-month period subsequent to the fulfillment of the order. In the event that production in the given 3-month period is lower than anticipated, no more than one (1) order (i.e. 600 MKB sets) may be carried over for use in the next 3-month cycle.

3. Vmedia

CPPM for Vmedia orders shall be limited to a maximum of 185 MKBs.

B. MKB Extension

1. Recordable DVD

CPRM for DVD-Video Format may require an MKB Extension for the purpose of Network Download. Fees for MKB Extensions are on a per download basis. A maximum of 1,500 MKB Extensions can be ordered at one time. When ordering MKB Extensions, a Service Provider shall only order sufficient MKB Extensions to cover anticipated number of contents to be released for Network Download with such MKB Extensions for the 3-month period subsequent to the fulfillment of the order. In the event that number of releases in the given 3 month period is lower than anticipated, no more than one (1) order (i.e. 1,500 MKBs) may be carried over for use in the next 3-month cycle. The MKB Extension can be used regardless of CPRM Recordable DVD media type (RAM, RW, and R).

2. SD Card and Compact Flash

CPRM for SD Card and Compact Flash may require an MKB Extension. Fees for MKB Extensions are on a per download basis. A maximum of 600 MKB Extensions can be ordered at one time. When ordering MKB Extensions, a Service Provider shall only order sufficient MKB Extensions to cover anticipated number of contents to be released for Network Download content with such MKB Extensions for the 3-month period subsequent to the fulfillment of the order. In the event that the number of releases in the given 3 month period is lower than anticipated, no more than one (1) order (i.e. 600 MKBs) may be carried over for use in the next 3-month cycle. MKB Extensions for each SD application must be ordered separately.

11. Confidentiality Period

Per Section 5.11 of the 4C CPRM/CPPM License Agreement:

The confidentiality obligations set forth in Section 5.2 shall be in effect during the term of this Agreement and shall continue thereafter until five (5) years after termination of this Agreement. The confidentiality obligations set forth in Section 5.3 shall be in effect during the term of this Agreement and shall continue thereafter until the later of (1) three (3) years after the last commercial use of the 4C Technology by Licensor or any Adopter, or (2) the expiration of the last copyright related to any 4C Technology encrypted/scrambled content which then exists in any country adhering to the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights of the World Trade Organization dated April 15, 1994. Provided that such confidentiality obligations shall not apply to Device Keys that been Expired in accordance with the Expiration procedures contained in this Agreement.
